To Whom It May Concern

GPH provides essential services through its knowledge in the waste management sector mainly in the port of Hamburg, where we operate a sophisticated port reception facility (PRF). The facility is fully licensed to receive and treat many types of oily waste deriving from both the maritime and industrial sector. In addition to these services, GPH offers its customers ship and truck logistics, tank/ship cleaning, a laboratory, oil pollution control fighting as well as general average management services.

The ATTIKI Industrieservice GmbH Team under the leadership of Mr. Chousein Kechagia, is one of the companies which we cooperated on various renovation projects in our installation. The company offers high quality services, have been extremely knowledgeable, responsive, proactive and we were always satisfied by their work and their high standards throughout contract performance.

ATTIKI Industrieservice GmbH is perceived as an excellent contractor whose work is of high quality and we definitely recommend their services without any reservations.

Mit freundlichen Grüßen.
